Course Setters John and Jaxon Rickel set a nice array of classic courses in the rolling foothills of the Santa Ritas, near the old mining area of Greaterville. A three-stage motala was also on offer.

The color map, developed largely by Ludwig Hill and Jeff Brucker, with help from various club members, was excellent. Cristina Luis vetted the courses, and Peg Davis prepared her excellent beginner's clinic, although we had no takers for it.

The vegetation was even crispier than might be expected for mid-May, as a recent brush fire had burned parts of the courses. The upside of the burn was that you could see the rocks, and fewer grass stickers in the socks!

The demanding but fair courses were enjoyed by a small but enthusiastic group of attendees. Out-of-towners included Anders Plymoth from the San Diego O Club, and Magnus Landstad, from the Norwegian University of Science and Technology in Trondheim, Norway, currently in Arizona to work with collaborators at ASU.

It was warm but pleasantly breezy. The hot near-solstice sun sparked the the formation of vigorous dust-devils nearby, whose columns of dust rose far into the sky. Dust devils that passed over the burn areas brought up whirling columns of black that closely resembled new fires or hotspots. In fact, the Sonoita Fire Department sent a truck to the area to investigate reports of new fires. But it was just the dust devils playing their tricks (see photo at bottom of page).

Thanks to the many energetic control retrievers, including Ludwig Hill, Gee Gee Larrington, Mark Parsons, Pat Penn, John Rickel, Gregg Townsend, and Wolfsong.
